

TJEMS Leadership In Person Training

March 22 & 23

400 Martha Jefferson Drive Suite 100, Charlottesville, VA 22911

Friday, March 22 16:00-20:00 TJEMS Classroom

Attributes of Leading is a highly interactive, practical, case study-based course. The program focuses on twelve qualities of leading, designed to build more effective Emergency Service leaders of all ranks. (The students get to choose the top 3 or 4 to review.) Through a process of view, review, introspection, and discussion, the program seeks to stimulate leaders to focus on qualities that constructively influence members regarding overall performance, health, and safety. Short videos for each attribute featuring officers from across the country, as well as thoughtful words from the late Chief Alan Brunacini, are used to stimulate discussion. 4 hours; all attendees receive a course certificate of completion; Cat 2 CEs

Saturday, March 23 09:00-13:00 TJEMS Classroom

Leadership, Accountability, Culture & Training: This scenario-based training takes company officers through changes that can be made to help keep their crews and units safer. 4 hours; all attendees receive a course certificate of completion; Cat 2 CEs

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

Our Instructor

Marybeth Henry is a volunteer EMT with Sterling Rescue in Loudoun County. She joined the Squad in 2010 and became an instructor in 2011. She currently teaches EMT class and several community classes, and brings more than 20 years of mental health experience to the table and is a leading advocate for mental health education and care. She holds a Bachelor of Science from Georgetown University.

This is an in person educational opportunity and seating is limited

Registration is open until Wednesday, March 20th